A Toast to the Bride.
Sweet as the song which the robins sing,
Pure as the flow of a crystal spring;
Deep as the depths of a mother's love,
True as your faith in the God above,
With a harvest of smiles and a future of tears,
Through all the course of the coming years,
So sweet, so pure, so deep in truth—
Be the joys that fate holds in store
For you.

Miss Mary Montague Moore is married to Mr. L. J. Barksdale, of Grenada.

The most brilliant social event of the season was the wedding on Tuesday evening of Miss Mary Montague Moore to Mr. Lewis Jones Barksdale, of Grenada, which was solemnized at the First Methodist church at 8:30 o'clock.

No word picture could do justice to the elaborate decorations of the church. The color scheme of white and green was beautifully carried out with southern smiles, white tulle and myriads of candles.

Mr. Howard Tinsdale presided at the organ, and during the waiting period Mrs. Bailey Hardy and Mr. William Henry Curtis sang.

The rich tones of Mendelssohn's wedding march announced the bridal party. The ushers were Messrs. Grady Stephenson, Walter Swope, Allison Hardy and Leonard Brooks.

Miss Ruth Hairston, bridesmaid, and Mr. Roland Jones, of Grenada, attendant, entered the two aisles and met at the altar taking their stand on the dais. The other bridesmaids and attendants, Miss Worthy Turner, Mr. Zack Landrum; Miss Emma Bell, Mr. Robert Hardy; Miss Miriam Sykes, Mr. George Leftwich, of Aberdeen; Miss Eleanor Steele, Mr. Lewis Jones, of Memphis; Miss Nancy Moore and Mr. William Barksdale, of Grenada, entered in like manner and formed a circle, making a striking picture.

The brides wore pink taffeta dresses and carried silver baskets of lovely pink radiance roses. The matrons of honor and attendants, Mrs. Mount Searles, Mr. Walter Moore, of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hardy; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Billups, Mrs. E. D. Lyons, of New Orleans, and Mr. Selwyn Jones, of Grenada, entered next. The smart gowns worn by the matrons were Nile green taffeta and their flowers were arm bouquets of pink roses. Miss Antoinette Moore, the maid of honor, entered alone. She wore a beautiful green taffeta, and carried a bouquet of white roses and valley lilies. Virginia Moore, in dainty white organdy, scattered rose petals from a silver basket carried by Charles Moore, Jr., of Winona. Little Alice Lyons, the ring bearer, was a perfect fairy. The bride entered with her father, Mr. E. S. Moore, while the groom and best man, Mr. Talbert Thomas, of Grenada, met them at the altar. The bride wore a magnificent gown of Duchess satin trimmed in real lace, the court train of satin was edged with a double ruffle of tulle held in place with pearls. She carried a beautiful bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

The bride, who is of a petite blonde type, never looked prettier. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Moore, and is a descendant of one of the oldest and most aristocratic families of the south. She has always been considered one of our most attractive girls, and is known for her beauty of character and charm of manner. She is a graduate of the class of 1914 of the Industrial Institute and College.

Mr. Barksdale is a planter and is popular in business and social circles.

Rev. Duren performed the impressive ceremony which made them man and wife.

After the benediction the organ pealed forth the march from Tannhäuser, to which the bridal party marched out.

At the reception following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Moore were assisted in receiving by the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Barksdale, the latter's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Jones, of Grenada. This handsome home was artistically decorated in smiles, ferns and tarleton. Punch was served by Misses Lucille Webb, Frances Dashiell, Hattie Wood, and Louise Wood. The dining room was beautiful in pink roses. Assisting here were Mrs. E. C. Chapman, Mrs. W. J. Burt, Mrs. J. T. Sanford; Misses Jennie Sharp, Grace Lawrence and Nell Carter. A delicious luncheon was served to the hundreds of invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Barksdale will be at home in Marks, Miss., after their wedding tour.

Draper Self Culture Club For Mothers Organized.

A long felt want in our city seems to have been fulfilled in the organization Thursday of the Draper Self Culture Club for mothers, by Miss S. C. Parnell in the home of Mrs. Frank Green. The organization took its first and profuse with instructive ideas.

These clubs have already been organized in many states and in many of the countries abroad.

The aim and purpose of this club is to carry the mother love and mother thought into all that concerns or touches childhood, in home, school, church, or state; to raise the standard of home life; to develop wiser, better trained parenthood; to bring into closer relation the home and the school; that parents and teachers may co-operate intelligently in the education of the child.

The club in Columbus organized with nineteen members and it is hoped there will be many more to give their membership into this helpful and wonderful work that has accomplished so much for others, and which places our city among those of great civic pride, that consider this movement for better motherhood and better citizenship for our boys and girls, one of the paramount issues of the nation.

The members are as follows: Mrs. J. S. Burke, Mrs. E. B. Beard, Mrs. M. F. Flood, Mrs. Edward Humphries, Mrs. W. S. Lindamood, Mrs. T. J. Locke, Jr., Mrs. H. H. McClanahan, Mrs. R. Pretty Birthday Party.

One of the most enjoyable affairs of the week among the younger set was the party Friday afternoon given from 3 to 5 o'clock, by Mrs. J. W. Gardner, in honor of her attractive little daughter, Janette's eleventh birthday.

The guests upon arriving were received by Willetta and Janette, and invited into the pretty parlor, where contests were very much enjoyed.

From here they were shown into the dining room where a delicious ice course was served. The big, round dining table was the center of attraction with its cluny lace, pink carnations and big birthday cake with its eleven candles; in the cutting of which the first prize was given to Margery Morris, and the second prize to Martha Leigh; the booby, which was a doll, was won by Joseph Wood.

About thirty-eight little guests enjoyed Janette's hospitality and each brought a sweet little token and wished for her many happy returns of the day.

Reception for Benefit Old Ladies' Home.

Thoughts for the Day.
Let us laugh away the trouble, let our eyes be dimmed with tears; let us laugh away the heartache, and the worries and the fears; just "be good and you'll be happy," if you're happy, you'll be good; for the rule is no doubting that it's seldom understood; Oh! there's no future coming with a lot of trouble in— We can fight it off by laughing till the others start to grin. —Sunshine Bulletin.

Miss Webb Entertains Auction Bridge Club.

Among the parties of the week none was more popular than the one given by Miss Lucille Webb on Wednesday afternoon to the Young Ladies' Auction Club, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards.

After several games of hearts a salad course and tea were served to the following guests: Mesdames W. E. Richards, Mount Searles, W. E. Westmoreland, Jr., Walter Locke, J. P. Woodward; Misses Georgia Hopkins, Jessie Stewart, Annie and Mattie Lou Stephenson, Susie Will Gunter, Anne Walker, Lorraine Epps, Bessie Buder, Elizabeth Patty, Ruth Hairston, Annie Terrell Hamilton, Sadie Mae Rosenzweig, Mary Woodie Betts, Antoinette Moore, Edith McGeorge, Hattie and Louise Wood, Frances Dashiell, Corinne Richards and Sara Davis Webb.

Hundreds of friends in Columbus sympathize with Mr. Harvey Jones, Jr., in the death of his mother, which occurred in Montgomery, Ala., Thursday, February 10th.

She belonged to many of the most historic families of Virginia, including the Cabells, Rives, and others of equal fame. In her own life she exemplified all of the splendid characteristics of those of noble birth.

Mrs. Jones had a conspicuous record in civic and patriotic affairs. For a number of years she served as state historian of the Alabama Division U. D. C. At the time of her death she was honorary vice-president of the division, also life matron of the Alabama Division of the Veterans.

She was laid to rest in Magnolia cemetery in Mobile, Ala., Saturday.

Baby Week Will Be Observed.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs has set aside the period beginning March 4 and ending March 11, 1916, to be called a nation-wide "Baby Week." During this time the chairman of the civic department, the home economist department and state chairman will appeal to every individual to arouse the entire community to a practical study of the best means of preserving and developing the child.

Some have asked the question if such a week is needed. When we consider that New Zealand shows an infant mortality of only fifty-one out of one thousand children under one year of age, but in our own country the rate of our cities runs from seventy-five to two hundred and fifty per thousand. Nor or our rural sections free from this enormous and unnecessarily high rate.

A well informed speaker in one of the most highly developed of the northern states, affirmed at a recent state convention that in the country forty-five per cent. of the little babies passed away each year.

In a recent article in the Woman's Home Journal Mrs. Percy V. Pennyacker, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, outlines definite plans for a Baby Week, as follows:

"Now there are two forms that the baby saving campaign may take—the simple and the more elaborate. A simple Baby Week could be carried at little or no cost. It consists of a campaign of articles in the newspapers on the subject of the infant mortality rate in that community, the special needs of the babies of the community; for instance, a better milk supply, an infant welfare station, work by visiting nurses, articles on the proper care of babies during the summer.

"A baby Sabbath might begin the week. Services may be held on the previous Saturday in the Jewish synagogues, and on Sunday in the churches, with sermons devoted to the child. Brothers and sisters' day in the schools, with talks by the teachers, compositions by pupils and demonstrations by little mothers, leagues, should occupy one day. To arouse community interest a mass meeting may well occupy one evening, with talks by the mayor, health officers, and members of the various associations interested in the celebration."

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Searey entertained with an informal dance last evening at the Twentieth Century Club rooms.

Hon. and Mrs. H. H. Brooks, of Meridian, were in town for the Moore-Barksdale wedding.

Mrs. Charles Hays will entertain the West End Bridge Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Hogan and little son, Thomas Leigh, left Thursday for their home in Texas.
